THE SPEAKERS

Jon Cowie and Luca Moranzoni are both Specialists in Endodontics. They work in referral practice in Bath and Bristol respectively and are also involved in teaching postgraduate dentists and undergraduate students at King’s College, London and The Bristol Dental Hospital. As practicing clinicians they understand the pressures in the modern day practice and aim to provide a platform to help implement new skills learnt into your everyday practice.

Delegates will pick-up the concepts of modern endodontic treatment, in a relaxed informal seminar style, then move onto the extensive hands-on sessions, where time will be given to practice the new techniques learned, in a one-to-one approach.
